Kite Surfing at Revillage

Dylan's kite school

An offgrid utopia at Sundari, Gujarat, India

WHAT IS KITE SURFING?

Kiteboarding or kitesurfing is an extreme sport where the kiter uses the wind power with a large power kite to be pulled on a water, land or snow surface. It combines aspects of paragliding, surfing, windsurfing, skateboarding, snowboarding and wakeboarding. Kiteboarding is among the less expensive and the more convenient of the sailing sports.

About IKO

Established in 2001 by kiteboarders Frédéric Béné and Eric Beaudonnat, the International Kiteboarding Organization (IKO) has grown from a two-man vision for the safer development of the sport to the largest kiteboarding organization in the world.

We now have an active community of more than 600,000 kitesurfers, 5,000 certified instructors and 350 affiliated centers in more than 60 countries.

Our mission is to safely and sustainably grow kiteboarding by empowering you to experience the sport with confidence.

We invest in digital technologies to provide the tools and resources needed to start and progress safely in kiteboarding. For instructors, we offer world-class professional training and certifications that open up international career opportunities. We help kiteboarding schools thrive by providing them with the means to increase revenue, and deliver a meaningful learning experience that kitesurfers can trust and enjoy.

At the IKO, we offer the world's largest selection of recreational and pro courses - including every level from Discovery to Evolution, and Assistant to Examiner.

Revillage, Gujarat, India

“First Largest Ever Kite Surfing Enclave”

Revillage is a 140 acre enclave, a self sufficient regenerative village aiming to improve quality of life, living in harmony with nature and establish micro economic sanity and stability. Our construction does not disturb the natural habitats and focuses on preserving them. Here we aim to promote a healthy regenerative coexistence of people and planet. Overlooking a 32km lake, it is an off the grid habitat that harnesses nature to produce its energy and nurtures nature to provide for food and economic livelihood for the community.

Location

At Revillage, we aim to bring you a peaceful and tranquil lifestyle without the hassles of worrying about everyday life. For this reason, we have ensured that most daily necessities are provided in the neighbourhood of the project itself.
